II. INTENDED STUDENT OUTCOMES:

A. Core Objectives:

1. Critical Thinking Skills – to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information.
2. Communication Skills – to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral, and visual communication.
3. Personal Responsibility – to include the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making.

B. Learning Outcomes:

1. Describe the types of police agencies and explain the role of police in America within the context of a democratic society.
2. Describe means and methods utilized to ensure police accountability.
3. Explain the historical development of policing.
4. Describe the selection process for police officers.
5. Compare and contrast organizational structures, policies, strategies and tactics employed to ensure police effectiveness, efficiency and equity.

III. ASSESSMENT MEASURES

A. Assessments for the Core Objectives (Tentative)

1. Critical Thinking: Students will engage in assigned readings and will be presented with oral and visual lecture content. The student will be able to demonstrate the ability to think creatively, to innovate, inquire, analyze, evaluate and synthesize information. Students will correctly answer embedded exam questions and/or complete written summaries of information, testing their knowledge, interpretation, and synthesis of theories, current research, and social issues as it pertains to the policing aspect of the criminal justice system. Outcome will be assessed using a rubric which incorporates the Angelina College Institutional Rubric for Critical Thinking Skills.

2. Communication: Students will research an assigned topic and will write an essay on the assigned topic. Students will present their findings to the class as a whole via an oral presentation. Communication skills will be assessed using a rubric which incorporates the Angelina College Institutional Rubric for Communication Skills.

3. Personal Responsibility: Students will be required to make choices in the completion of course written assignments and/or exams that demonstrate their ability to connect choices and actions, engage in ethical decision-making, and understand its consequences. A rubric will be used to assess personal responsibility as demonstrated through embedded questions on standardized exams.

B. Assessments for Course Learning Outcomes (Tentative)

1. A combination of assigned readings, in course lectures, field trips, videos, and guest speakers will be utilized to describe for students the various types of police agencies found in the US and to explain the role of police in our democratic society. Students will demonstrate their understanding of these topics through questioning (Socratic), and successful completion of various projects and major exams.
2. A combination of assigned readings, in course lectures, videos, and guest speakers will be utilized to describe means and methods utilized to ensure police accountability. Students will demonstrate their understanding of this topic via participation in questioning (Socratic) and successful completion of major exams and/or projects. Additionally, students will be given five (5) descriptive scenarios depicting various real world situations that police officers or other criminal justice system employees are routinely confronted with. The descriptive scenarios will deal with topics that relate directly to ethics and pro-social personal responsibility. Students will be required to read each scenario and develop a written plan of action regarding how they would deal with the situation they are confronted with in the scenario. The Angelina College Institutional Rubrics for critical thinking skills, communication, and personal responsibility will be used for assessment.
3. In course lectures, visual representations, field trips, and assigned readings will be used to explain to students the historical development of policing. Students will demonstrate their understanding of this topic through class discussions, written or oral presentations, questioning (Socratic), and successful completion of major exams.
4. Assigned readings of the textbook, in course lectures, videos, field trips, and guest speakers will be used to describe the selection process for police officers. Students will demonstrate their understanding of this process by participating in group discussions, questioning (Socratic), completion of written assignments, and through successful completion of major exams. The Angelina College Institutional Rubrics for Critical Thinking Skills will be used for assessment.
5. Assigned readings of the textbook, in course lectures, and student projects will be used to compare and contrast organizational structures, policies, strategies, and tactics employed to ensure police effectiveness, efficiency, and equity. Students will demonstrate their understanding of these topics by successfully answering embedded exam questions. The Angelina College Institutional Rubric for Critical Thinking Skills will be used for assessment.

IV. INSTRUCTIONAL PROCEDURES:

Methodologies that may be utilized in presenting course content will include a combination of lectures, small group exercises, written and oral presentations, videos, guest speakers, field-trips, reading assignments, and major exams. Internet research may be required for this course at various times. All criminal justice courses whether online or in-person will have an online Blackboard feature that allows students to access power-point presentations, assignments, the course syllabi and other relevant information.

V. COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND POLICIES:

A. Required Textbook(s) and Recommended Readings, Materials and Equipment:

Required Textbook:

1. Dempsey, J. S., and Forst, L. S. (2018). An Introduction to Policing (9th ed.). Clifton Park, NY: Cengage Learning.

Recommended Books:

1. Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 6th edition.
2. Current edition of either Blacks Law Dictionary or Oran's Dictionary of the Law

Other Materials:

1. Each student must have a Scantron Form 882-E and number 2 pencil for use on each exam.
2. Spiral notebook or binder for note taking
3. Highlighter for textbook review, etc.
4. Computer with internet access. Familiarity with Microsoft Word and Microsoft Power-Point

B. Course Policies:

Academic Assistance:

Educational Accommodations – If you have a disability (as cited in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 or Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990) that may affect your participation in this class, you may fill out the Educational Accommodations application within your AC Portal, under the “Student Services” tab. A Student Success team member will contact you once the application is received. At a post-secondary institution, you must self-identify as a person with a disability in order to receive services; for questions regarding the application process you can visit the Office of Student Success and Inclusion in the Student Center (205A); text 936.463.8078; or email access@angelina.edu. To report any complaints of discrimination related to a disability, you should contact Mr. Steve Hudman, Dean of Student Affairs, in Room 101 of the Student Center. You may also contact Dean Hudman by calling (936) 633-5292 or by emailing shudman@angelina.edu.

Attendance:

The official Angelina College attendance policy will be followed, meaning a student can be dropped from class by the instructor after 3 consecutive absences or 4 cumulative (total) absences. This does not include absences for college-authorized activities, but it does include absences for illness or any other reason. If a student obtains their 4th or additional absence after the drop date for the semester, automatic failure of the course will result. Once a student is dropped by the instructor readmission to the course is prohibited....regardless of the reason or excuse the student may or may not have.

Additionally, if you desire to drop the class, you should take the necessary steps to complete the drop on your own. Just because the instructor can drop you from the class, does not mean you can assume a drop will occur. This is a matter of personal responsibility you must take care of on your own.

For the purposes of all Criminal Justice classes an absence is defined as follows: failure to attend class, failure to sign class attendance log, leaving class early, talking, sleeping, or any other disruptive behavior in class.

Additional Policies Established by the Individual Instructor:

Student Behavior:

Criminal Justice is an academic discipline and career choice that requires a high degree of professional character and moral conduct. Students are expected to engage in pro-social, ethical, and legal conduct both on campus and in private life. Additionally college is a time for personal growth and personal responsibility. All students who are going to be successful in Criminal Justice courses will be required to display observable qualities that display personal responsibility.

Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty:

Please see the Student Handbook for Angelina College's definition of and policies regarding plagiarism and academic dishonesty. Students engaging in any form of plagiarism or academic dishonesty – which is the unacknowledged use of anyone else's work (published or unpublished) or cheating of any kind, will result in immediate and irrevocable failure of the entire course. Criminal Justice is not a major or profession for cheaters and such behavior will not be tolerated at Angelina College.

All cell-phones must be turned off upon entering the classroom. If an emergency situation requires the monitoring of a cell phone during class time, prior notice to the instructor is required. During exams, nothing will be allowed in proximity to the student except the exam and Scantron. If any student is observed using a cell phone, iPod, computer, headphones, or any other unnecessary object/device during an exam, the student will be excused from the classroom and will receive a zero on the exam in question.

Other Rules:

Students are expected to properly dispose of all trash in the appropriate receptacle adjacent to the door.

It is the policy of this instructor and of Angelina College that you not bring children or other guests to class.

If I am talking or another student is talking as it pertains to class assignments, you do not.

VI. EVALUATION AND GRADING:

A. Grading Criteria:

1. Tests :	Point Value:
a. Exam #1	100 points (25%)
b. Exam #2	100 points (25%)
c. Exam #3	100 points (25%)
d. Final Exam	100 points (25%)

2. Late Assignments or Missed Exams (IMPORTANT INFORMATION):

There will be no make-up exams given in ANY criminal justice class. Additionally, in courses where other assignments are required, no late assignments will be accepted for any reason. There will be no exceptions to this policy, regardless of the reason. Failure to take exams or complete assignments as scheduled, will result in a zero for the exam/assignment in question. All students should pay careful attention to the syllabus, exam dates, and be attentive in class as it relates to the discussion of important dates for assignments and/or exams. If you intend to be in this class and earn college credit hours upon its completion, you MUST be present on key dates when the exams are given.

B. Determination of Grade:

The four (4) exams given throughout the semester will be averaged and will count equally (25% each) toward your final course grade.

Computation of Course Grade:

90-100:	A
80-89:	B
70-79:	C
60-69:	D
0-59:	F

Additional Information on Determination of Grade:

Your grade will be a strict interpretation of your earned exam / assignment scores. There will be NO extra credit opportunities available in ANY criminal justice course. Your grade will reflect what you earn; this then is a reflection of the work you put into class attendance, class participation, and studying.

VII. SYLLABUS MODIFICATION:

The instructor may modify the provisions of the syllabus to meet individual class needs by informing the class in advance as to the changes being made. These changes may take place at any time for any reason as determined by the instructor.

VIII. ANGELINA COLLEGE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS & TECHNOLOGY STUDENT INFORMATION:

As a student enrolled in a Technology & Workforce program, you will encounter certain risks while you are in a classroom, laboratory experience, or in a clinical or practicum setting. In the event that you sustain an injury and/or require any medical testing or care, all resulting medical expenses (hospital, ambulance, or physician fees), are your financial responsibility and not the responsibility of Angelina College or the clinical/practicum site.
