VI. Instructional Procedures:

The course will be taught in either a face-to-face, hybrid or fully online format with the Blackboard learning system as a delivery system for the textbook and online assignments and assessments. The face-to-face and hybrid formats of this course are taught in a traditional classroom setting and in a computer lab setting. The Blackboard learning system is used to attach to McGraw Hill’s learning system CONNECT. A variety of instructional methods will be used throughout the semester to deliver the course learning strategies, i.e. class discussions, reading, group projects, online learning, and video viewing.

V. Course Requirements and Policies:

A. Required Textbook ACCESS CODES, Materials and Equipment –

Required textbook and material:

1. Access Code for the textbook, P.O.W.E.R.: Learning and Your Life, Robert S. Feldman, 7ed.

B. Policies – (This course conforms to the policies of Angelina College as stated in the Angelina College Handbook.)

1. Educational Accommodations – Educational Accommodations – If you have a disability (as cited in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 or Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990) that may affect your participation in this class, you may fill out the Educational Accommodations application within your AC Portal, under the “Student Services” tab. A Student Success team member will contact you once the application is received. At a post-secondary institution, you must self-identify as a person with a disability in order to receive services; for questions regarding the application process you can visit the Office of Student Success and Inclusion in the Student Center (205A); text 936.463.8078; or email access@angelina.edu. To report any complaints of discrimination related to a disability, you should contact Mr. Steve Hudman, Dean of Student Affairs, in Room 101 of the Student Center. You may also contact Dean Hudman by calling (936) 633-5292 or by emailing shudman@angelina.edu.

2. Attendance – Excessive absences are defined as three or more consecutive absences or four or more cumulative absences from regularly scheduled class periods. Online classes must document equivalent participation. The summer terms call for two or more consecutive, or three or more cumulative absences. A three-hour night class counts as two class periods. Students will not be dropped and will be allowed to make up work for absences because of (1) College District (including early college high school) authorized and sponsored activities, and (2) religious holy days. It is the student’s responsibility to arrange for make-up work with the instructor and to complete it within a reasonable time. In accordance with the Texas Education Code, each student is allowed to be absent from a class for the observance of a religious holy day. A “religious holy day” means a holy day observed by a religion whose places of worship are exempt from property taxation under Section 11.20, Tax Code. The student must notify the instructor of each class of the anticipated absence not later than the 15th calendar day after the first day of the semester. A student who is excused under this section must complete all assignments or missed examinations at the direction of the instructor.

C. Additional Policies Established by the Instructor

1. Student Conduct: As a student learner, it is your responsibility to be respectful of the learning atmosphere in your classroom. To show respect of your fellow students and instructor, you must:
 - a. Turn off your phone and other electronic devices.
 - b. Do not sleep in class or you will be asked to leave.
 - c. Arrive on time for class so you will not disturb others.
 - d. It is important to your success that you meet your assignment deadlines. You are still responsible for assignments even if you have been absent.
2. Academic Dishonesty: The College and its official representatives may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of any form of academic dishonesty including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism and collusion. Cheating or plagiarism in any degree will not be tolerated by the college and will result in no less than a failing grade on the assignment in question. Further proceedings to have the violator suspended from class and/or from the college may be initiated through the current policy of the college on grievances.
3. Make-Up Work: Generally, no make-up work will be given in this course. You will be provided with a calendar of assignments, exercises and test due dates well in advance of their deadlines. Therefore, it is expected that you will have your assignments completed prior to class eliminating the necessity of make-ups. In special circumstances (i.e. extended illness, death in the family, etc.), your instructor may use discretion and allow a deadline extension on a case-by-case basis.
